

Main Line Mayhem’s U19 Strive defender, Kennedy Ninness is the Philafieldhockey Defender of the Week.

“Despite a two-week holiday hiatus, Kennedy was a force NOT to be reckoned with by our opponents' attackers this weekend at USTC,” said Main Line FHC Director and Coach Alex McMahan. “She was the anchor of the Mayhem Strive defense, consistently splitting presses against tough competition and coming-up with key block tackles that limited Mayhem's opponents to only 3 goals over the course of 4 games.”

Ninness is noted for her consistent leadership on offensive and defensive corners and helping the team prepare for the upcoming NITQ. Team Strive heads in the tournament, this coming weekend, with an impressive 3-1 record.

Ninness is a sophomore at Conestoga and plays year-around for the Main Line Field Hockey Club. In her free time, she participates in FCA, Best Buddies and supports the school musical by styling the actors' costume hair.
